

Japanese Society of Pediatric Neurosurgery

Society officers and ambassadors

Dear Member of JSPN,

I would like to personally invite you to the 46th Annual Meeting of the International Society for Pediatric Neurosurgery (ISPN 2018) which will take place on October 7-11, 2018 in Tel Aviv.

The theme for this year's annual meeting is "Innovation & Inspiration" where the scientific program will bring together leading international experts to discuss breakthroughs in pediatric neurosurgery, advances in the clinical practice and offers the opportunity to gain comprehensive knowledge and skills.

The program will start on Sunday, October 7th including a special focus on two topics:

- Updates in Pediatric Neurosurgery: a comprehensive full day course dedicated to catch up on current practice which is perfect for residents, young professionals and nurses.
- Intraoperative Neurophysiology in Pediatric Neurosurgery: we will explore IOM methods and benefits in a 5-hour course.

We would like to empathize that we will give a special attention to the schedule of Japanese abstract presenters so that you will be able to present your paper at the meetings' in the first 2 days (8-9 October).

During the tense scientific program, we are planning a great social program full of surprises, for you to enjoy with your colleagues!

At the same time, do not forget to bring your nurse. Nurses are a very important part of the ISPN!

Numerous Travel Awards for participation to the meeting will be offered. More information can be found here.

I'm excited to host you in Tel Aviv, a vibrant and cosmopolitan city on the Mediterranean coast-line. Beyond the dynamic culture and innovation of Tel-Aviv, take the opportunity to explore the history and variety that the Holy Land has to offer. Be sure to check out the tours that are offered while you will be visiting our country.

I hope to welcome you in Tel Aviv! Book your flights early!

With kind regards,
Shlomi Constantini
